RELIGIOUS EDUCATION POLICY

The school vision, values and distinct Christian ethos

Christ is at the centre of our Church of England school community where we live, love and learn together within an inclusive and equalities framework, and where students of all faiths and none are welcomed into our Anglican Christian community. In all that we do, we seek to show God's care for our students. We value, respect and celebrate all faiths and cultures because we are inspired by a welcoming, inclusive and loving God, seen in Jesus Christ and lived out through the Holy Spirit, alive in every person.

Our vision is to create a safe, caring, happy and inclusive community underpinned by our Christian values of service, compassion, justice and perseverance and our motto CARITATE ET DISCIPLINA - WITH LOVE AND LEARNING which come from the story of St Martin of Tours. Central to this is our school bible verse from the book of Corinthians.

Love is patient, love is kind. It does not envy, it does not boast, it is not proud. It does not dishonour others, it is not self-seeking, it is not easily angered, it keeps no record of wrongs. Love does not delight in evil but rejoices with the truth. It always protects, always trusts, always hopes, always perseveres. Love never fails.

1 Corinthians 13:4-8

We communicate our values on a day to day basis at all levels and ensure that every member of our school community has a voice. We aim to create a community, which does not judge or offer judgement but rather promotes values, acceptance and understanding.

St Martin's is committed to academic excellence and personal well-being. The school's vision is to create a safe, caring, happy and inclusive community underpinned by our Christian values and the teachings of Christ Jesus as found in the gospels.

Our aim is for St Martin's girls to shine and grow together in faith and knowledge, developing their unique gifts and talents both in the classroom and in the wider life of the school and beyond. Our commitment to learning ensures that our dedicated and caring school community is reflective and listens to the voice of our students.

By developing student voice, we aim to assist our students to have the skills and confidence in a supported environment to share any concerns they have. All adults working with our students uphold our Christian values and demonstrate these in their conduct and approach with our students. Students understand the importance of love, respect and trust by all parties.

Background to Religious Education at St Martin's school

Religious Education (RE) is not a National Curriculum subject, but must be taught to all students as part of the Basic Curriculum. As a Church of England Voluntary Aided School, the teaching of Religious Education is governed by the Trust Deed drawn up when the school was founded. This is currently interpreted in a way that gives status to Christianity but also promotes respect and understanding of other principal religions.

As a Church School, we have a duty and responsibility to educate children in the understanding of the Christian faith and its values. Part of our Christian commitment is that we also promote a respect for, and an understanding of, the major religions represented in the school. This is developed through our daily acts of worship and teaching in the classroom and permeates throughout the day to day life of the school. We enjoy regular contacts with the Christian community, its clergy and churches, and have links with other places of worship.

Families who send their children to St Martin's are in the main 'nominally' Christian. There are a proportion of students from practising Christian families; in addition there are children who are from religions other than Christianity and some from non-religious backgrounds. RE is concerned with "learning about religion" and "learning from religion" and respecting one another's faiths and beliefs.

Withdrawal from RE

Parents have a right to withdraw their children from religious education (RE). If a parent asks for their child to be wholly or partly excused from attending any RE the school must comply unless the request is withdrawn. Any parent who wishes to do this may consult the head teacher.

Values and Aims

At St Martin's RE both supports and strengthens what we aim to do in every aspect of school life. Our caring ethos and the value which we place on the development of the whole child; spiritually, morally, socially, culturally and intellectually is reflected in the RE curriculum. Specifically, RE at our school aims to enable students, of whatever ability and level of development to:

1. Acquire and develop knowledge and understanding of principal world faiths practised in Great Britain. These include, Christianity, Hinduism, Islam, Judaism, Buddhism and Sikhism, each of which is represented in Lambeth;
2. Develop an understanding of the influence of beliefs, values and traditions on individuals, communities, societies and cultures, including the local community;
3. Develop the ability to make reasoned and informed judgements about religious and moral issues with reference to the teachings of the principal religions;
4. Enhance their own spiritual, moral, social and cultural development by:
 - a. developing awareness of the fundamental questions of life arising from human experiences, and how religious beliefs and practices can relate to them;
 - b. responding to the fundamental questions of life in the light of their experience and with reference to religious beliefs and practices;
 - c. reflecting on their own beliefs, values and experiences in the light of their study;
 - d. expressing their own personal viewpoints in a thoughtful, reasoned and considerate way;
5. Recognise the right of people to hold different beliefs within an ethnically and socially diverse society.

Objectives

Learning

Religious Education provokes challenging questions about the ultimate meaning and purpose of life, beliefs about God, the self and the nature of reality, issues of right and wrong and what it means to be human. It challenges students to reflect on, consider, analyse, interpret and evaluate issues of truth, belief, faith and ethics and to communicate their responses.

Religious Education should encourage all participants to reflect on their own beliefs and values and to acknowledge that others hold beliefs different from their own.

AIMS AND LEARNING OUTCOMES

To enable students to understand the nature of Christian beliefs and practices, the beliefs and practices of other world faiths, and non- religious beliefs, such as atheism.

- To develop student's knowledge and understanding of religious beliefs, teachings and sources of wisdom and authority, including through their reading of key religious texts, other texts and scriptures of the religions they are studying,
- To teach tolerance, respect and challenge prejudice towards people of different faiths through providing opportunities to develop an understanding of living in a multicultural, multi-faith and multi-lingual society; community cohesion will also be built and maintained in RS lessons.
- To contribute to students' preparation for adult life in a pluralistic society and global community.
- To help students reflect upon their own needs, experiences and questions and to confront what are sometimes referred to as 'ultimate questions.'
- To encourage students to develop open minds to new and different concepts and to form their own opinions based on evidence and argument.
- To maintain close links with local churches and other religious communities.
- To learn from Religion and beliefs in addition to gaining knowledge and understanding about Religion and beliefs.
- To be "informed" and "reflective", "enquiring" and "expressive":
 - Enquiry – identifying questions or concepts for investigation
 - Informed – selecting knowledge and understanding for active learning
 - Expressing – planning for active involvement and response
 - Reflective – providing opportunities for evaluating and responding.
- To develop students' ability to construct well-argued, well-informed, balanced and structured written arguments, demonstrating their depth and breadth of understanding of the subject.
- To promote British Values. In Britain this is with a particular focus on Christianity but it also looks towards interfaith dialogue and a willingness to understand difference that it may be celebrated and overcome (not done away with)

GUIDELINES AND TEACHING AT KEY STAGES 3, 4 AND 5

Governors share responsibility with the Diocese and the Headteacher for ensuring that the requirements for religious education are met in their school.

Key stage 3

Our Key stage 3 curriculum is based on the Lambeth Agreed Syllabus for the teaching of Religious Education but we supplement this with material from the Diocese and elsewhere. See an example in appendix A (for detailed schemes of learning, see separate electronic folder)

Key stage 4

At Key stage 4 (from year 9 onwards) students follow the AQA Religious studies course. GCSE specifications require students to demonstrate understanding of two religions. The course has two components: Component 1 is the study of religions: beliefs, teachings and practices and Component 2 is a thematic study. Our students study Christianity and Islam. The overview of this new specification can be found in this policy as appendix B.

Key stage 5

We offer AQA A-Level Religious Studies. Students study Philosophy of Religion (Religious language; Experience and religion; Nature of God; Life and death; Miracle), Religious Ethics (Meta-ethics; Free will and determinism; Conscience; Virtue ethics; Applied ethics topics), and the study of Christianity. (Sources of wisdom and authority; God; self-death and afterlife; expressions of religious identity). See example timetable in appendix C.

Teaching the programmes of study contributes to students' knowledge and understanding and provides opportunities for reflection including:

- Beliefs and teachings - e.g. stories, religious leaders, books, God/God's, self-sacrifice, truth, life after death;
- Religious practices and lifestyles - e.g. people, festivals, pilgrimages, places, events, artefacts, lifestyle choices, actions, effects on individuals;
- Ways of expressing meaning - e.g. sacred texts, art, music, literature, symbolism, poetry, dance, drama, prayer, forms of religious and spiritual expression, silence/stillness;
- Human identity, personality and experience - e.g. belonging, preferences, relationships within family and community, influences on own lives, inspirational people;
- Questions of meaning and purpose - e.g. amazement, sadness, disappointment, joy, awe, in connection with the natural world and life's journey, making sense, ultimate questions of life raised by life experiences;
- Values and commitments - e.g. values, ethics, principles, rules, morality.

The teaching of RE seeks both to impart knowledge and develop understanding of religious experiences, feelings and attitudes through a variety of teaching and learning approaches.

RE teaching draws on the following:

- visits and visitors; enabling students to see at first hand religious people, objects, symbols, places, events, stories and explore with people who have faith
- role play; encouraging students to learn through familiar or unfamiliar settings and ask questions from their own encounters

- artefacts; being able to explore items which are precious and/or used in religious worship, encouraging respect and questioning whilst deepening knowledge
- the expertise of the school chaplain and the chapel is used as a learning resource

The teaching of RE involves some whole class teaching as well as group, paired and individual activities. A range of teaching styles are used including enquiry, exploration, discussion, asking and answering questions, artefacts, visits and faith visitors; students are actively engaged in learning. The school regularly visits Holy Trinity Church and receives visits from local clergy and other organisations.

Assessment, Recording and Reporting (see school Assessment policy for more detail)

Learning objectives are an integral part of each unit of work in both key stages. These are shared with students and form an essential part of the learning that takes place in each lesson.

Diagnostic marking of selected pieces of work is a key feature of assessment for learning. Feedback to students requires green pen responses from them in order to re-draft, improve or correct work. The school marking policy is used across the department: WWW (what went well), HTI (how to improve).

Each half term every student will have one formal assessment. These assessments might be in the form of tests, essays or short questions. In both year 10 and 11 students take a formal PPE.

Homework tasks are set weekly for years 7-11 and in the Sixth Form which either consolidate learning or prepares them for new learning.

The RE department has undertaken moderation exercises to ensure that teachers are familiar with the assessment criteria and what they mean in the context of a students' work.

Time Allocation

St Martin's RE provision is above the requirements of the Lambeth Agreed Syllabus of Religious Education which is based on the expectation that 5% of curriculum time should be devoted to Religious Education. It is also in line with the National Society Statement of Entitlement for Religious Education which states that the proportion of curriculum time dedicated to meeting religious education objectives should be between 5-10%.

At St Martin's at both Key Stages 3 and 4, students have two 50 minute RS lessons (7% of their curriculum time).

At Post 16 we have introduced a Core RE provision which will provide an entitlement of more than 10 hours per year for all sixth form students (see appendix D)

A-Level Religious Studies is offered as an examination option to our students at KS5 (six 50 minute lessons per week, 20% of curriculum time, 10 hours per fortnight).

Cross Curricular Issues

RE teaching and learning is a gateway to many wider cross-curricular themes and dimensions.

It offers special opportunities to explore multicultural and equal opportunities issues and to consider the environment. Moral questions are raised and students develop a sense of citizenship through many aspects of the explicit RE curriculum. Links are made with people and communities within the locality. Students' skills in oracy and literacy are enhanced. Problem-solving, decision-making and interpersonal skills are developed.

Leadership and Management

The Head of the RE department leads and manages this area of the curriculum and is line managed by the Head of Humanities who in turn is line managed by the Deputy Headteacher.
